Dear Roy:

I was sorry to learn that you are still so under the weather that your leave had to be extended. It will be good that you can have the holidays uninterrupted at home, anyway, and we will be looking forward to having you back on the job in January. As you've probably heard, they've been pretty shorthanded.

The new table of organization is now being implemented. As you probably knew informally, it calls for a combination of voice and press duties in the CAF-8 Intercept Operator job which I think will be advantageous operationally and provides a more logical basis for classification. The only misfortune it works is in your case, since it eliminates the P-3 Morse Section Supervisor position which you held by eliminating the section itself, and leaves only one of the CAF-8 positions into which you can step.

We understood that you were generally aware of the proposed change, and have therefore gone ahead with a request that you be transferred to the CAF-8 job at your present salary, in the hope that you would not refuse to accept it. If there is any question of your preferring to look elsewhere for another position, please let us know immediately.

I am sorry to have been the bearer of ill tidings at this time, and wish you a Merry Holiday Season in spite of them.

Regards,

FOR THE CHIEF, [REDACTED]
